A Message From Our Chamber President

Matt Nartowicz • President

The Glen Cove Chamber of Commerce has over a 100 year history of enhancing the health and profitability of its member businesses. We recognize the past two years have challenged our community and members in different ways but we are filled with optimism as we emerge in 2023 ready to serve the business interests of the city of Glen Cove and surrounding villages. The Chamber's focus heading into the new year is centered on support, promotion and network building for all businesses in the city of Glen Cove and will be the foundation for important decisions.

Support:

Our strong connection allows us to be on the forefront of information sharing with regards to regulatory changes, government aid, and business lending. We will serve as a resource and direct point of contact between our members and the city of Glen Cove, Nassau County and New York State.

Promotion:

Through our expansive reach on social media platforms, email directories, and direct mail marketing we will increase the visibility of our member businesses' promotional activity, events, websites and social media pages. We will collaborate on marketing and social videos to increase exposure, engaging the existing customer base while aiming to acquire new customer traffic.

Network Building:

Membership meetings will devote time for members to network and create meaningful and mutually beneficial connections with one another at every meeting. Beyond connectivity with one another, we see value in multi organizational network events where likeminded business leaders can come together and refer products or services, share best practices, and discuss sales driving opportunities.

To join our growing community and maximize your business potential you can apply online at glencovechamber.org or call the Chamber office at (516) 676-6666.
